Women's health encompasses a broad spectrum of concerns, reflecting unique challenges and health journeys. And supplement brands are just beginning to recognize the need for solutions to support women during their childbearing years through menopause and beyond.

Fortunately, IFF offers one of the largest portfolios of probiotic and botanical options to support women's health, featuring:

- numerous options spanning all female life stages
- leading, clinically studied probiotics, botanicals and health ingredients
- scientific and formulation expertise
- customized solutions and finished formats
- deep market and consumer insights

By understanding and addressing health needs at each life stage, we provide tailored supplement offerings that can address symptoms unique to women as they seek to optimize their wellbeing.

THE RAPIDLY GROWING MENOPAUSE MARKET

Millions of women struggle with the mental, physical and emotional challenges that come with menopause. At IFF, we're partnering with our customers to provide probiotic and botanical solutions to support women across a wide range of menopause symptoms.

A BOOMING MARKET

The valuation for the overall Women's Health market is expected to reach $60 billion by 2030.^[1]

But until recently, most supplement brands haven't paid much attention – making for a large, untapped market. Although women represent 63% of probiotic supplement consumers across the US and Europe, under 10% of recent global supplement launches have targeted the female population.^[2]

This means a MAJOR OPPORTUNITY for supplement brands.

Global supplement sales for Women's Health and Beauty reached $8.72 billion in 2023.^[3]

Nearly 70% of women in the U.S. indicated they're more likely to take supplements specifically designed for the female body.^[4]

With 6.8% estimated growth in 2023, probiotics are the fastest-growing segment in women's health supplements in North America.^[4]
